from the Residency Surgeon, Bangalore.

SUBJECT.

Pay of the Clerk of the Residency Surgeon, Bangalore.

The pay of the Residency Surgeon's Clerk was sanctioned at Rs 30/- a month in Foreign Dept. letter No. 206 of 27th July 1882, & has remained at that figure till now. In the budget for 1896-1897, an increase of Rs 10/- a month in the pay of this Clerk was proposed by the Residency Surgeon, but the provision was omitted & the Residency Surgeon was informed that if there were special grounds the proposal should be separately submitted for consideration. nothing was done in the matter presumably because there were no sufficient reasons to justify the increase.

Sd. N. 6. file 391 1895

2. It is submitted that the reasons given in the present letter are not strong enough to justify a reference to the Govt of India in the matter. The present incumbent has put in a service of only 4½ years, but there are a number of officials in other departments in this & the Station with longer service remaining entitled to increase of pay & with no prospects of any in future.

3. If approved, the Residency Surgeon may be informed that from the information placed before him the Offg Resident regrets that it is not possible for him to recommend the proposal to the Govt of India & that if a stronger case can be made out, the proposal should be submitted in accordance with article 57 Civil Account Code, Vol: I.

(The scale proposed should be 30-4-50 or 30-5-55, but not 30-5-50 as stated by the Residency Surgeon, the pay rising from the minimum to the maximum in 5 equal yearly instalments. Vide article 149-C.S.R.)

Note in Sl. No. 1. File 30 1904

The sanctioned pay of the Residency Surgeon's clerk is ₹ 30/- a month. In September 1904, it was proposed by the Residency Surgeon to enhance his clerk's pay by a progressive increase from 30 to 50/ a month, & it was then intended to take up this question along with that of revising the whole of pay of the clerical establishment attached to Residencies, but the whole matter was dropped.

2. The question is now again raised, both ~~Major Dennis proposes to give his present~~ Major Dennis takes into his consideration in this connection his proposal to do away with a second clerk on ₹ 20/- a month. This 2nd clerk does not belong to the Residency Surgeon's office proper, but has been temporarily employed in connection with plague work. If this temporary appointment be abolished, any portion of the saving effected cannot well be added to the pay of the permanent appointment of the 1st clerk on Rs 30/- a month. except ~~as compensation~~ ~~allowance~~

3. ~~If the 2nd clerk be dispensed with~~ from 15th June 1907 by the Residency Surgeon, the 1st clerk may be granted temporary an allowance of Rs 10/- a month from the saving effected in the Regular budget by the abolition of the post of the 2nd clerk, ~~if the accounts kept by him are objectionable~~. As the first clerk has been doing good work for upwards of 17 years without any promotion, & as his case would be considered on the abolition of the 2nd clerk's post, ~~have been recommended for increase~~ I beg to recommend that, if approved, he may be granted a personal allowance of Rs 10/- a month. I would also recommend that the pay of the Residency Surgeon's clerk be raised from Rs 30/- to Rs 45/- in view to the increased establishments. In this case, the appointing authority would be the Resident Surgeon, duly receipt of the Accountant General, Madras. Pending the sanction to the proposed increase of pay, the existing arrangements may be continued.

19. There is nothing in the C. S. Regulations as to the rate at which a personal allowance is to be granted. In the case of the Head clerk of the Residents' office for whom a personal allowance was recommended, the Govt of India observed that the ordinary rate at which personal allowances are granted did not exceed 12½ per cent on regular salary. In the case of the Residency Surgeon's clerk the regular salary being ~~Rs~~ Rs 30/-, the maximum personal allowance permissible under the ordinary rate amounts to only Rs 3¾ a month

Sir,

I have the honour to request that you will kindly lay the following proposal regarding the Residency Surgeon's office staff before the Honorable the Resident in Mysore

2 At present this office staff (as distinct from Hospital) Consists of two Clerks, a Senior and a Junior.

3 The work of the Junior Clerk (A. Dorraiah) is to make up the in-fectious disease daily report and take impress copies of it for circulation to the various offices.

4 This work, even when there is a large number of infectious disease cases, occupies him about one hour per diem and is very carelessly done.

5 The pay drawn by this Junior Clerk is Rs 20/- per mensem. S.G. file 148/1906.

6 I Venture to propose therefore that the services of this Junior Clerk be dispensed with from the 15 June 1907 and that his small duties be performed by the Senior Clerk (D.S. Bitchaipillai).

7. In addition I recommend, both on account of the slight increase to his duties, and for good service for the past 7 years

That the Senior Clerk V.V. Pitchaipillai be granted an addition to pay up to an increase of Rs 15/- per mensem.

His name has already been sent in for increase of pay (Vide copy of letter attached).

This increment is to be granted in five annual instal-ments of Rs 3/- each; ie present pay Rs 30/-, first increase to Rs 33/- per mensem, second year Rs 36/- per mensem up to final pay of Rs 45/- per mensem.

Sir,

I have the honour to address the Govt of India regarding the pay of the clerk of the office of the Residency Surgeon, Bangalore, which is now Rs.30/- per mensem.

2. This post has been held for the last 7 years by D.S.Pitchai Pillay, whose work during the period of his employment has been uniformly good. He has however received no increase of pay and the restricted scale of the Residency Surgeon's establishment holds out no prospects of promotion for many years to come.

appointment of plague clerk in the Residency Surgeon's office on Rs.20 per mensem, which had existed since the outbreak of plague in 1898, has recently been abolished as the decline in the epidemic has now rendered unnecessary the employment of a full time clerk: the work has therefore been entrusted to the Residency Surgeon's permanent clerk. In consideration of the extra work thus entailed on this clerk and having regard to the good work done by him and the absence of practically all chance of promotion I would recommend that, as a special case, D.S.Pitchai Pillay be granted a personal allowance of Rs.7-8-0 a month, ~~to the grant of which~~ and I would accordingly solicit the sanction of the Govt. of India.

Dated Simla, the 13 August 1907.

Sir,

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 4634, dated the 6th July 1907, regarding the proposed grant of a personal allowance of Rs. 7-8-0 a month to D. S. Pitchai Pillay, clerk in the Office of the Residency Surgeon, Bangalore.

2. The Government of India are not prepared to admit that the additional work entailed upon the clerk by the abolition of the appointment of plague clerk in the Residency Surgeon's Office forms a ground for the grant of an allowance. But in recognition of his reported good service and of the absence of a reasonable prospect of promotion, sanction is accorded, as a special case, to his being granted the allowance in question subject to the provisions of Article 61
